

Nature Picture Books

FICTION:

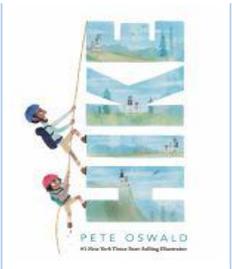

Bathing in the Forest by Marc Ayats

As people walk through the forest, the little girl of the forest offers support to those in need, encouraging them to connect with the trees and recharge with nature's peaceful beauty.

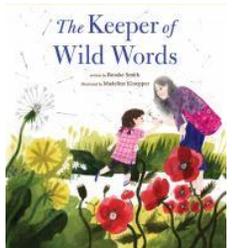

The Hike by Alison Farrell

Three friends set out on a day hike to explore their local forest, intending to climb to the top of the hill, where they will plant a flag, read a poem, and release feathers into the wind.

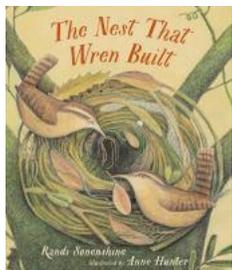

Hike by Pete Oswald

A father and child head out on a hike, keeping a cherished family tradition alive.

The Keeper of Wild Words by Brooke Smith

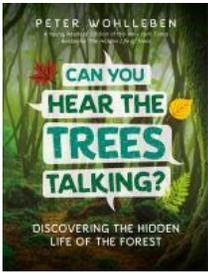

Mimi is a writer and when she finds that some of her favorite words for natural things, such as wren, violet, and dandelion, are disappearing she appoints her granddaughter, Brooke, as the keeper of wild words, and shows her how to bring them to life by knowing, appreciating, and using the things they stand for.

The Nest that Wren Built by Randi Soneshine

Nature lovers and poetry fans alike will be drawn to this lyrical picture book depicting how Carolina wrens build a nest for their young.

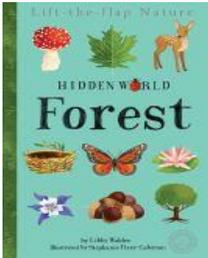

NON-FICTION:

Can You Hear the Trees Talking?: Discovering the Hidden Life of the Forest

by Peter Wohlleben

A global advocate for forests and our relationship with trees shares the mysteries and magic of the forest in language kids can understand. Includes quizzes and hands-on activities.

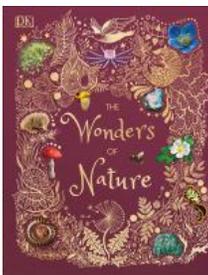

Hidden World Forest by Libby Walden

Filled with bite-sized facts, multiple flaps, and engaging illustrations, this book is perfect for introducing young children to the wonders of the woods

Outside Your Window: A First Book of Nature by Nicola Davies

This beautiful book captures all the sights and sounds of a child's interactions with nature, from planting acorns or biting into crisp apples to studying tide pools or lying back and watching the birds overhead.

The Wonders of Nature by Ben Hoare

This compendium of amazing rocks and minerals, microscopic life, plants, and animals will wow children and many adults, too.